Federal Official Hopes to Bar Development of County

Intervenes Through Letter Copies, Unofficial Groups

A new method of "governing" the Quad-City area and Madison County—utilizing unadopted guidelines and "silent" copies of correspondence—appears to have emerged, a study by the Press-Record showed today.

A letter on local development was written Feb. 11 to Howard W. Kaseberg of Granite City Rural Route One, chairman of the Madison County Zoning Board of Appeals, by Charles A. Schweighauser, executive director of the Coalition for the Environment, St. Louis Region. He cited the "Madison County plan," which has not been adopted by the county.

The Coalition has no official status. Its officers include a vice-president, Henry S. Bienencki of Granite City, who also heads the Granite City Air Pollution Control Board.

Bienencki, in addition, is president of the Madison County Citizens Environmental Council, like the Coalition, it is a volunteer group not chosen by the public to represent it.

Although he did not say so in his letter to Kaseberg, Schweighauser sent a copy of the letter to John L. Wanner, director of the Chicago Area Office, Region V, U. S. Department of Housing and Urban Development.

Kaseberg forwarded the letter to HUD Board chairman, County Board chairman, who works with that board, Jack R. Clifford, Madison County zoning administrator.

Clifford in a Feb. 14 letter took exception to many of the points the Coalition executive had made, and also reacted angrily to the methods utilized by Schweighauser and to Schweighauser's emphasis on a "Madison County plan" which has never been adopted by any elective governmental body.

Later correspondence indicates that the Coalition then sent a copy of Clifford's response to HUD Director Wanner.

On Feb. 16, the Madison County Board of Supervisors received a favorable Zoning Appeals Board recommendation on the development project. To permit time to obtain soil studies, the County Board deferred action on the recommendation until April 28.

Next, on March 15, Wanner wrote to Kaseberg—whose Appeals Board already had acted—and urged defeat of the 772-acre development plan. His letter copied verbatim many of the phrases originally used by Schweighauser.

This was followed by a more detailed statement by Clifford, entitled, "Madison County Zoning Department comments and position relative to the development of the American Bottoms."

On March 23 the Madison County Citizens Environment Council sponsored a meeting in Edwardsville at which John Guillo, director of the Illinois Division of Waterways, criticized Madison and St. Clair Counties and the East Side Levee and Sanitary District for failing to remedy drainage problems. He said that about half of such problems could be eliminated if present drainage ditches and pumps were maintained in proper order.

An MCEC spokesman said it had invited all 49 County Board members, "the environmentalists wanted the board to hear an expert" during its study of the rezoning issue. The spokesman noted that only one of the 49 Chouteau Supervisors, Walter Sparks, attended.

Two related citizen groups, meanwhile, were formed to work against the development proposal—Group Rebellion Against Sasyk Project and the Concerned Citizens on March 26 made plans to meet at the East Side Levee District office at 9:30 a.m. Monday, April 3, to discuss drainage.

Citizens Environmental Council Chairman Bienencki on Tuesday wrote Wanner of HUD, "Thank you for the copy of your letter to Mr. Howard Kaseberg, chairman of the Madison County Zoning Board of Appeals, expressing your views on the proposed rezoning of 772 acres in the American Bottoms for a mobile home park."

2nd Hearing on Area Plan Required

A second public hearing on a proposal to construct a downtown Granite City mall will be held soon due to questions concerning the makeup of the Board of Local Improvements, which is handling the project, it was reported by Mayor Donald Partney today.

At the same time the mayor announced that William Brandt, Granite City attorney, has been retained as legal counsel for the project. Brandt will replace attorney Leo Konzen who has withdrawn from the assignment because of increased business demands, the mayor said.

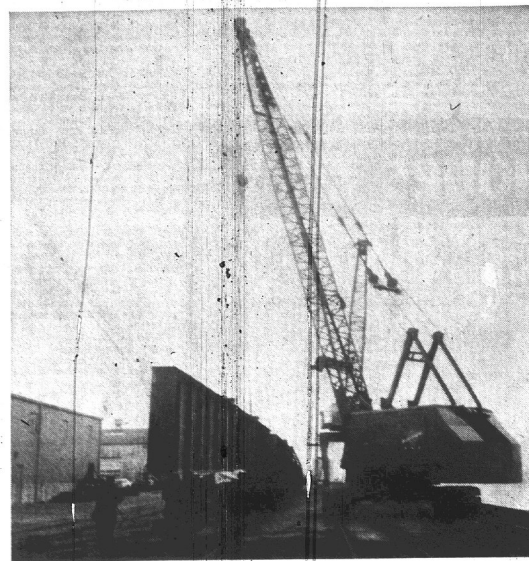

The requirement for a new hearing results from the fact that the Board of Local Improvements does not now include the city's public engineer. State statutes governing operations of local improvement boards specifies that board membership shall include the mayor, the superintendent of the streets and the public engineer, the mayor noted.

The city ordinance relating to such boards provides for board membership consisting of the mayor, the street superintendent and two members of the city council.

Engineer Post Filled When the Board of Local Improvements was established last year to further the mall project, Granite City had no public or city engineer. Mayor Partney explained. The post of public engineer was filled by council action a month ago.

Consequently, the board as originally set up included Mayor Partney, Street Superintendent Lionel Portrell and Aldermen Walter Noren and Frank Greenwald.

The board conducted a public hearing on the mall proposal on Feb. 28.

HEAVY CARGO of steel beams was transferred from rail cars to barges at the Granite City Wharf Tuesday for a trip up the Kaskaskia River to Randolph County, Ill., where they will be used in bridge construction. Fourteen beams, ranging in length up to 126 feet, weighed a total of 770,000 pounds (385 tons), or an average of 55,000 pounds each. The beams were manufactured by the Stupp Bridge & Iron Co. of St. Louis County and were moved by rail to the wharf which is operated by the Bi-State Development Agency.

Open Corn Plant Monday

The Marshall Division of Niles Laboratories will discontinue operations here at midnight Friday but the plant will reopen with the first shift Monday morning under contract with Corn Sweeteners, Inc., to operate the facility for a trial period of about four months.

Announcement of the reopening of the plant was made at a meeting in Cedar Rapids, Iowa, of the board of directors of Archer-Daniels-Midland Co., Decatur, parent company of Corn Sweeteners.

Marvin Andreas, executive vice-president of Corn Sweeteners, said he was unable to say at this time the number of employees who will report to work Monday. He said full details of reopening plans will be released early next week.

Andreas announced March 20 the plant would be operated at about one-half of the normal work force during the trial period. Andreas said yesterday that company officials have been meeting with employees to discuss the reopening schedule and the meetings will continue through this weekend.

During the trial period, Corn Sweeteners will conduct extensive engineering studies to determine the feasibility of converting the plant into a modern, efficient corn milling operation.

Miles Laboratories announced in February that all operations at the local plant would be discontinued March 31 due to financial considerations. Miles employed 497 hourly and salaried personnel when the decision to discontinue operations was made.

The store's owner, Roy Stancic, told police the men entered the store and one walked directly into the back room, where Nick Stancic, an employee, was eating dinner. The robber said "Give me your money," and Nick Stancic gave him an undetermined amount of cash. The gunman also took some cash from a cabinet in the back room, the owner reported.

In the front room, the other two men held the owner and a woman, an employee, at gunpoint, and ordered them to lie on the floor. One asked Roy Stancic, who the "big money" was. He replied it was all in the cash register, the victim reported.

One man took the money from the cash register, the other took Pask's wallet containing $11, police were told. One robber also went into Roy Stancic's adjoining bedroom and stole two diamond rings and six pairs of cuff links from a jewelry box, Roy Stancic reported.

The men then took three bottles of liquor and fled through the front door. A witness reported she saw the men run into two cars in which drivers were waiting.

One of the robbers was described as about five feet, 10 inches tall, wearing a black leather jacket and a black hat with a knot on top. The others were described only by height, one about five feet, 10 inches tall, and the other about six feet tall.

Cites 'Flood Threat,' Calls for Limiting Construction, Emphasis on 'Open Space'

(Related article on Page 32.)

(Editorial on Page 26.)

Henny Penny used to about a warning that "the sky is falling." Sixty-nine years have passed since the Quad-City area and environs suffered serious flooding. But a federal administrator has indicated he wants to bar new construction projects here due to his warning that "you're situated in a flood plain! You're situated in a flood plain!"

Spurred on by Madison County Citizens Environmental Council Henry S. Bienencki and Executive Director Charles A. Schweighauser, John L. Wanner has intervened to try to block a major residential-commercial development proposed north of Interstate 270 and east of Route 111.

In urging that rezoning for the proposal be defeated, Director Wanner of the Chicago Area Office, Region V, U. S. Department of Housing and Urban Development, went beyond it to make this point:

He will cut off federal grants channeled to and through Madison County and the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan Area Planning Commission unless the area west of the bluffs abandons all land use plans other than agricultural, recreation or "open space."

The letter from Wanner, written with Deputy Director Martin Rogan's participation, has been called "blackmail" by several Madison County officials. They read it as a direct effort to intimidate county and planning authorities.

The local area officials interpret the letter as ordering abandonment of any thought of residential, retail, light industry or manufacturing development anywhere that could be considered "bottomland" or "flood plain," regardless of how broadly those terms might be defined.

County Zoning Administrator Jack R. Clifford says, "If we are to accept this recommendation without a fight, we are saying to the Cities of Granite City, Madison, Venice, Hartford, Roxana, South Roxana, Wood River and East Alton should never have been allowed to come into existence."

"The soils study does not reflect the importance of the geology," he said.

graphical location—all the Interstate highways, railroads, the heavily-traveled Mississippi River and their close proximity to the City of St. Louis.

"This area is in the hub of the metropolitan St. Louis area and should be considered a vital location for all future industrial developments," Clifford believes.

Schweighauser touched off the controversy by writing the Zoning Appeals Board to complain about potential "extensive environmental damage."

He urged that "unfeasible urban development" be discouraged in favor of farming and "open space."

He alleged that problems could result from flood potential, high water table, unsuitable soils, urban service costs, inadequate drainage ditch capacity, lack of sewage treatment, high shrink-swell soil and possible groundwater pollution.

Clifford replied that the unofficial Coalition group is not in as good a position as the Appeals Board to evaluate the merits of land use proposals.

"If you are of the opinion that the Board of Appeals and the County of Madison do not have the wherewithal and know-how to evaluate a rezoning change, then we can do each other a favor by severing all means of communications in the future," Clifford said "he would remain receptive to "any constructive comments."

Madison Mayor Mike Sasyk, head of a land trust wishing to develop eastern Madison County, said he has the St. Louis interests, with the help of HUD and people who do not have the best interests of Madison County at heart, are effectively eliminating any construction and any use of a great potential labor force in development of the American Bottoms area.

U.S. Wants to Follow Unadopted County Plan

What is the Madison County Plan and what are its ramifications?

It was referred to by the Coalition for the Environment in a Feb. 11 letter as a plan "prepared in 1969 by the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan Area Planning Commission."

Charles A. Schweighauser, Coalition executive director, cited a large area in Madison County whose development is under consideration. He reported that the Madison County Plan "proposes that the area in question be left in agriculture and open space."

He said, "At the present time there is no significant urban development in the immediate area."

He warned against rezoning action that might "set a precedent which may lead to extensive environmental damage in the American Bottoms."

Schweighauser listed a series of "constraints to urban development."

He asserted that "the proposed development is likely to be crippled from the start, never maturing to a full-scale urban or community. There are a number of examples of this in the American Bottoms."

"The result is groundwater pollution, marginal housing conditions, unsightly development and, finally, enormous expense when the federal government is asked to solve a flooding problem on land that should never have been developed."

Urging that "unfeasible urban development" be discouraged "and not permitted to come an environmental problem," he called for "a publicly stated policy in development of the American Bottoms in order to insure their wise use for the public good."

"Seemingly ill-advised ventures may result in the destruction of our natural environment and the creation of marginally habitable urban environments."

Replying to Schweighauser, Jack R. Clifford, Madison County zoning administrator, said that the Madison County Plan prepared by SIMAPCO "to date has not been adopted or reviewed to the point of final action by our county and cannot be considered at this time."

Steel Industry Jobs, Shipments Continue Upward

Domestic steel industry employment rose for the second straight month during January. It remained well below 1971's peak and was still fairly close to a 32-year low set late last year.

American Iron and Steel Institute reports that steelmakers listed 446,177 persons on their payrolls in January, an increase of 2,780 persons from December and a rise of 16,412 from November's 429,765 figure—the industry's lowest monthly employment total since August 1939.

However, the number of steel company employees in January was 59,426 less than 1971's peak industry employment of 553,603 persons set in June.

The Institute said domestic steelmakers paid out $436,795,000 in wages and salaries during January. This compares with $18,404,000 in December and $433,439,000 in January 1971. Total employment costs per hour by hourly employees were $8.86 in January 1972, compared with a $6.26 average for 1971.

Costs of employee benefits included in the total (pensions, insurance, supplemental unemployment benefits, the non-payroll portion of savings and vacation plan costs and legally required payroll taxes) are partly estimated.

Average hours worked per week by wage earners: 35.7 in January 1972, compared with 34.3 hours in December and 35.6 hours in November.

Domestic steel shipments recorded their fifth straight monthly increase during January, continuing the gradual climb which began late last year.

U. S. mills sent 6,588,000 tons of steel to their customers during the month, an increase of 484,000 tons over December's shipments.

During January 1971, domestic steel shipments were 7,508,000 tons. However, shipments early last year were inflated by customer hedgebuying against the possibility of a nationwide steel strike.

Although domestic mill activity has improved in recent months, foreign steel continues to grab off a substantial share of the U. S. internal market, January's 1.1 million tons of imports constituted one-seventh of the nation's apparent steel supply during the month, AISA notes.

Grades of steel shipped in January 1972 with comparisons in net tons for January 1971 in parentheses:

Carbon steel, 6,018,000 tons (6,855,000).
Stainless steel, 59,000 (57,000).
Tool steel, 7,200 (6,600).
Other alloy steel, 504,000 (539,000).

Market classifications:
Automotive, 1,531,000 tons (1,597,000).
Steel service centers, 1,192,000 (1,407,000).
Construction and contractors' products, 922,000 (1,164,000).
Containers and packaging, 456,000 (643,000).

MORE ABOUT Intervenes

Madison County Citizens Environmental Council, I would like to express the appreciation of our organization for your interest in this matter, and bring you up to date on the recent developments in this situation.

"The Zoning Board of Appeals approved the rezoning request and it went before the County Board of Supervisors for their February meeting.

"A delay was requested by a representative of the soil conservation district and a motion was passed with a small majority to hold the matter over for 60 days to the April 26th meeting of the Board.

"It is my understanding that Mayor Sasek and his associates have subsequently received assurance of the additional support required to insure passage of the measure at the April meeting.

"I am attaching clippings from the Granite City Press-Record supporting some of the concern expressed by officials of the school district and residents who are apprehensive of the impact this project might have on taxes, property values, drainage, environmental problems, and county welfare and police services," Bienencki continued.

"Attached also is a position paper recently released by Mr. Jack Clifford, administrator for the Zoning Board of Appeals.

"Mr. Clifford's statements speak for themselves. As a resident of Madison County, I am personally dismayed by Mr. Clifford's uncompromising position.

"It is my understanding that our tax-supported planning agency is SIMAPC. However, to my knowledge, the professional views of SIMAPC officials on this rezoning measure have not been solicited by appropriate officials in any open meeting.

"Active group of citizens in the Granite City School District have been circulating petitions protesting against the proposed rezoning and have already acquired several thousand signatures.

"Mayor Sasek has attempted to answer their concern over potential tax increases by pointing out that the mobile home project would have fewer children per acre than a subsidized Federal 235 Project, according to statistics.

"At the March 16 meeting of the Madison County Citizens

Frank Mehelic Wins As Committeeman

Frank Mehelic, Rural Route One, was elected Democratic precinct committeeman of Nameoki Township precinct 7 during the March 21 primary election, defeating his opponent, Eugene Gargac, by a vote of 113 to 96, according to final returns by the office of County Clerk Eulalia Hotz.

Due to an error in figures listing unofficial returns, Gargac was listed as winner of the committee post by a vote of 96 to 113.

Mehelic said that he is not aligned with any political group in Nameoki township.

Eight Windows Broken

Vandals broke eight window panes and an outside electric meter in an unoccupied house at 1754 Chestnut St. It was reported at 3 p.m. Wednesday.

Environmental Council, John Gillou, chief of water resources for Illinois, stated that development of the American Bottoms should not be permitted until an adequate primary drainage system is constructed.

"He said that cost of this system has been estimated at $130,000,000 and that these funds could only come from federal sources.

"From your letter of March 15, it is apparent that the possibility of obtaining such funds without sound, comprehensive, land use planning is virtually nil.

"It is my suggestion, since the Zoning Board of Appeals has already made its recommendation, that your office request that (County Board Chairman) Hagnauer call a special county board meeting to permit your staff to present the reasons for your position on this matter.

"If a special meeting is not feasible, I would suggest that you send a representative to the County Board meeting on April 28.

"It is advisable, under the board's meeting rules, to write to Mr. Hagnauer and ask to be put on the agenda prior to discussion of the rezoning measure.

"Again, I wish to express my appreciation for the active interest of your agency in sound planning for our area and for your concern for the prudent expenditure of our tax monies. I am certain this appreciation is shared by many thousands of residents in our local area and school district," Bienencki concluded his March 28 letter to Wauer.

MORE ABOUT U. S. Wants

There are areas where the county is taking a completely different position than that which is recommended by said Plan Commission.

Clifford stressed that "it is not economically feasible for the County of Madison to maintain large existing open areas in the American Bottoms on the basis that you outlined in your communication."

He assailed the Coalition's "completely negative approach" and urged that future comments be made on a "constructive" basis.

John L. Wauer, area director of the U. S. Housing and Urban Development Department, said, "Construction grant programs are connected to planning requirements which, in effect, say that construction grant requests for an area must form a part of the comprehensive plan and, more particularly, of the function (water or waste water) development plan for the area."

"Both HUD and EPA (Environmental Protection Agency) have assisted the area in developing plans that will change markedly if the rezoning request for the American Bottoms is granted.

"The whole system of water and waste water facilities now proposed in accordance with the comprehensive plan will change if the American Bottoms are allowed to urbanize.

"Needless to say, construction grant requests for development in the American Bottoms will not be approved by us in view of the mandate of Executive Order 11996 and our support of the Madison County Plan, which takes the executive order into account.

"Further, the disregard of the Madison County Plan in this rezoning request will impair consideration of the rezoning request in the county that do not involve the American Bottoms.

"The issue is whether plans developed will be upheld or not in the interest of sound, orderly, economic and environmentally suitable growth.

"We await the outcome of this rezoning request with great optimism that the sound concepts of the Madison County Plan will be upheld."

The executive order referred to by Schweinhauer concerns "potential flood damage" and said "the need for future federal

Funds Released For Payments on Lake Park Land

Gov. Richard E. Ogilvie has released $88,750 from the Land and Water Recreation Fund to enable the Department of Conservation to honor land purchase commitments at Horseshoe Lake State Park, according to Conservation Director Henry N. Barkhausen.

The money will reimburse owners of property acquired last autumn by the department as part of its development of the state park and wildlife refuge in St. Clair and Madison counties. Payment of the landowners had been blocked by a recently lifted freeze on state expenditures.

Barkhausen said seven tracts comprising 25 acres are involved in the transactions, bringing total land acquisition in the area to about 75 acres. The park and refuge ultimately will include some 1,700 acres of land and 1,400 acres of water, he said.

Half of the state's outlay for the project is expected to be recovered under a Bureau of Outdoor Recreation cost-sharing program which makes federal funds available to state and local governmental bodies for the purchase or development of lands for outdoor recreation, Barkhausen reported.

Old Newspapers Found in Trunk Date Back to 1800; Treasure of History

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Staff Writer

The headline "PEACE" across the top of the Kansas City Post drew wide attention on Nov. 11, 1918, and was the cause of much joy and excitement.

That same headline was the cause for much excitement recently for Mr. and Mrs. Fred Clark, 2 Jones Park, Pontoon Beach, who found that newspaper and many others in a trunk at a St. Louis storage warehouse.

Newspapers dating back to 1800 were purchased by the Clarks at the warehouse for $1, the seller obviously unfamiliar with the contents of the rolled bundle of newspapers Mr. Clark took from the trunk.

The oldest in the collection, The Sun, from Pittsfield, Mass., in 1800 had little resemblance to the newspapers of today. Most of the front page was devoted to advertising.

Coronation Detailed

A section of the Chicago Daily Press and Tribune, dated Oct. 9, 1858, also was among the finds in the collection. The section contained the official plans, including photos and drawings, for the coronation of King Edward VII of Great Britain and Ireland.

The former owner of the trunk obviously had collected newspapers of historic value and safely stashed them for later generations. A series of patriotic supplements to the Chicago Daily Tribune published in 1900 was in the collection.

It contained sections on George Washington, Abraham Lincoln, Ulysses S. Grant, Benjamin Franklin and Benedict Arnold.

Biographies of William McKinley, Thomas Jefferson and Theodore Roosevelt also appeared in the Chicago Inter-Ocean in 1900 and 1901.

A headline from Dec. 3, 1906, read "Message of McKinley" and outlined President William McKinley's "History of Chinese Trouble With Outline of American Policy — Digest for Busy Readers."

A stark headline from the Sept. 14, 1901, edition of the Inter-Ocean marked "Extra-6:30 a.m." read "President McKinley Dead: (Theodore) Roosevelt is Summoned."

Subheads explained the assassination. "Bulet Fired by the Assassin Cosmopolis Completed its Foul Mission in the Early Hours of the Morning." "Physicians had abandoned hope long before the 'and came' and 'wounded man had been unconscious since the preceding evening—his last utterances were words of consolation to his wife—pathetic parting of the two members of the cabinet said last farewell," the paper reported. McKinley's last words were "God's will, not ours, be done," the newspaper said.

Hearst's Chicago American of the same day reported "Body to Lie in State—at Buffalo and Washington" The entire assassination could be recalled much more vividly than in any history book by scanning through the Clarks' newspapers.

Other papers reported on the first World War. "Why We Fight. No. 4" was one of a series of articles in the North Arkansas Star in July 1918 which continued, "Because Germany for years sought to undermine our government and our ideals." Editorizing then was not restricted to the editorial page.

On Nov. 11, 1918, the Kansas City Post proclaimed "PEACE" across the banner. Subheads stated "The War Has Ended," "Mayor Proclaims Today a Holiday," "Celebrate with Joyous Clamour," "Swirl of Excited Humanity" and "Impromptu Pageant of Victory."

Scanning through other yellowed fragile papers, the Clarks found an aerial photograph on which had been drawn plans for the Chicago Sanitary and Ship Canal in the March 7, 1906, edition of the Chicago Tribune.

Also included in the collection was an old undated set of blueprints for what resembled a 1900 vintage coat rack.

Mr. Clark declined to identify the warehouse from which he purchased the newspapers but said it was an antique hunter's dream.

The pirate-type chest from which the newspapers were taken also contained some old

Blackman to Speak at GCHS Athletic Banquet April 10

Bob Blackman, head football coach at the University of Illinois, will be guest speaker at the Granite City High School athletic banquet at 6:30 p.m. Monday, April 10, in the school cafeteria.

Honored will be members of the football, basketball, wrestling, cross country and soccer teams, their coaches, cheerleaders and the pep squad. All lettermen will be introduced.

Tickets are $3.25, and the public is invited.

Blackman, who ranks fourth in total victories among active major college coaches and 10th in winning percentage, spent 16 brilliant years as head man at Dartmouth College before moving to Illinois last fall where he posted a 5-6 record under rather remarkable circumstances.

His Fighting Illini in 1971 lost their first six games and swept their last five, all against Big Ten opponents.

Illinois' 53 Big Ten finish tied for third with Ohio State and was the best conference mark since 1968 and the most wins in Big Ten play since 1962.

The last time Illinois won five games in a row in a season was 1953 and the last time an Illinois team won five Big Ten games in succession was 1948.

Spectacular Cameraman

For the spectacular cameraman back, Blackman was one of 17 coaches in the country nominated for "Coach of the Year" honors by the American Football Writers Association.

The 1971 record left Blackman with 153 total victories as a head coach—fourth on the list of total victories by an active head coach at a major university. Only Paul Bryant of Alabama, Woody Hayes of Ohio State and Ben Schwartzwalder of Syracuse have won more games.

Blackman currently ranks eighth among active major college coaches with 10 years tenure; 10th on the list of major college coaches with at least five years experience.

In 23 years of college head coaching, Blackman has won 153 games, lost 55 and tied 8 for a winning percentage of .723.

While at Dartmouth, Blackman was named New England Coach of the Year in 1958, 1962, 1963 and received two national "Coach of the Year" awards in 1970. At Dartmouth, his Indian teams posted perfect 9-0 records in 1962, 1963 and 1970.

In his last 10 years at Dartmouth, the Indians ranked in the top ten in national major college statistics in more different areas than any other team.

Multiple System

Known for his ingenuity on offense and devastating defense, Blackman labels it a "multiple system" in both cases.

"It appears complex to opponents but comes across as basic football to our players. We use a great many formations from week to week both offensively and defensively," Blackman says.

Blackman went to Dartmouth in 1953 after two years at Denver where he led the Pioneers to their first Skyline Conference championship in 34 years (1954) and a two-year record of 12 wins, 6 losses and 2 ties.

He began his college coaching career at Pasadena City College. In four years there, his teams won the national junior college championship twice (1951, with a 12-0 record and again in 1952). His record at Pasadena was 36-6-3 for a .526 winning percentage.

Built With Polo

A native of Desoto, Iowa, Blackman's playing career at the University of Southern California was ended in his freshman year by a bout with polio. He immediately turned to coaching as a student assistant to Howard Jones at USC. He graduated cum laude from USC in 1949 and earned a master's degree in education from USC in 1949.

He started his coaching career at San Diego Naval Station during World War II and then at Monrovia (Calif.) High School.

Blackman is married to the former Kay Wilson of Los Angeles. Their son Gary, 23, is a 1970 graduate of Dartmouth and now is a member of the coaching staff at Mount Hermon High School in Massachusetts. Their daughter Julie, 22, graduated from the Chandler School in Boston and is now employed as a secretary at the Graham Junior College in Boston.

The golfing season for the Granite City High School squad started on a bad note Monday as the team dropped a dual meet for Macomb, here by seven strokes, 162 to 169.

Second lowest in the Granite City lineup was Mark Speer, who had a 42 after double bogey on the first and last holes.

Jack Egles finished the nine holes with 43 and Bruce Lattimore followed one stroke behind at 44. Rounding out the Warriors seven were Rick Rosenfield with 47, Bill Skibhal with 48 and Mike Willis with 51.

The skies were gloomy over the Arlington links Tuesday and so were the faces of the Warriors after finishing last in a triangular meet with Alton and Edwardsville.

PIETRETT GREASY STAINS

Greasy stains may ride right through the weekly laundry and still remain when you remove your clothes from the dryer.

If you still see the stains, they're probably fairly well set by then.

Although some grease stains wash out with regular laundry methods, it's best to pretreat them first. Begin with simply hot water and detergent. Work liquid detergent, shampoo or a paste of laundry detergent into the stain. Let the spotted article stand approximately 30 minutes, and then wash it in the usual manner.

Often you'll need special patience to remove stains from modern man-made garments with their special finishes. Instead of scrubbing, bend the fabric to work the detergent in the stain. Vigorous rubbing may change the color or appearance of the fabric.

If the stain persists after washing, try a grease solvent. Pack the stained side of the fabric against a blotter of paper (waxing). Next, working from the underside of the garment, sponge the stain thoroughly with the solvent.

Because fumes from grease solvents may be toxic, and flammable, use them only in a room with adequate ventilation, and well away from open flames. And keep small children away from the work area. Many of the fumes are heavier than air and may affect your child more than you.

Sometimes, yellow stains appear after the very treatment. If age or heat has set the original stain. To remove this stain, use a bleach that's safe for the fabric.

Interim Term Works, McKendree Plans More

McKendree's College's first interim term was so successful that plans for next January's one-month term already under way, and a trip to Greece to study ancient civilization is among the classes offered.

Philip Kennedy, associate professor of philosophy, and his wife Marianne will visit Greece this summer to make final arrangements for next January's tour. Kennedy will lead the class trip.

The course is titled "Seminar in Philosophy of Greek Civilization" and will be an interdisciplinary course providing the equivalent of four semester hours credit in art, English or philosophy.

The seminar-tour will last 3 1/2 to 4 weeks and tentatively will include a week in Athens, five days on the island of Crete, a five-day bus tour of the mainland, and four days in the Aegean Islands. The cost to the student will be $800 and will cover meals, travel and housing.

Five Art Majors in Print, Drawing Show

Five art majors at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern are represented in the second annual national student print and drawing show at Illinois State University.

They are Dick Duncan, Kathy Dickey and Martin Garhart, Edwardsville, and John Barnes and Ronald Bramel, Belleville. Duncan won a $30 purchase award for a print and Barnes a $50 purchase award for a drawing.

Lithographer's Stones, Hobby of Researcher

Stephen Britko, a research assistant in fine arts at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern at Edwardsville, has an unusual hobby. He collects lithographer's stones.

Britko, who has about 150 of these stones, says the collection grew out of his interest in painting and different methods of printmaking. He is researching this field with instructor Jim Butler.

Lithography is the original method of offset printing. Britko explained. "The stone is first ground, an image is drawn, with either a grease pencil or crayon, after which the stone is coated with gum arabic and etched with nitric acid. The gum arabic forms a stencil which attracts water. Before the stone is inked, it must be moistened with a sponge. When the stone is rolled, the grease attracts the ink and the gum stencil repels the ink."

Britko acquired his latest lithographic stones from Leon Church, publisher of the Lebanon Advertiser, whom he met while he was working on his bachelor's degree at McKendree College.

After receiving the degree in 1967, Britko taught at Peoria High School until 1970 when he decided to work on an advanced degree. "After looking at art programs in other schools," he says, "I decided SIU-SW was for me."

Britko has received three national purchase prizes and five regional awards for his art work. His most recent recognition was for a drawing.

Most Grads of SIU-SW Work in This Region

A survey of graduates of Southern Illinois University-Southwestern indicates that more than 70% of them are putting their talents to work in the immediate area—Madison and St. Clair counties in Illinois and St. Louis County in Missouri.

According to David Van Horn, director of placement, the highest percentage of graduates go into teaching. "Our graduates tend to stay in this area," he says, "putting their talents and education to use in the region in which they were developed."

Van Horn's survey indicates that 30% of last year's graduates went into elementary teaching, 22% into secondary teaching and 67%, a combination of both. His latest survey shows four teaching at the junior college level or in technical institutions, 3% in colleges or universities and 34 in some kind of school administrative positions. Among those responding to the questionnaire, 37 indicated they were in business and industry in this area.

First Graduate
SIU-SW's first graduate, Gail Bender of Granite City, is treasurer and controller of Sprad Fastener Co., St. Louis, owner of a real estate leasing company.

"Looking back over the past 14 years," Bueger says, "my initial reasons for remaining in this area were a matter of family and close friendship ties. As the years progressed, these reasons remained, but reasons such as expanding opportunity, growth in higher educational institutions and a feeling of responsibility to the area which has been good to me, began to develop."

Larry Burbank, who completed work for his B.S. degree in business administration last December, says he was looking for a job in a town where the potential for growth was evident—"that seemed to me to be in the heart of Metropolitan St. Louis. So I was happy when an opportunity came to work at the bank of Edwardsville."

A media assistant in the consumer products division at Ralston-Purina Co., Carol Resabe of Edwardsville says she doesn't want to leave her company or the area. The 1969 graduate in business education thinks the opportunities in this area for market research are "tremendous, especially for women, who are willing to get their feet wet and who enjoy working with people."

Froud of Degree
Miss Rozalek says she is proud of her degree from SIU-SW. "Ralston-Purina is paying my expenses for a master's degree in business administration. I could have gone to any school, but I chose SIU-SW."

One of the University's newest graduates, Kenneth Blackman, class of 1971, commutes from Collinsville to McDonnell Douglas Corp., St. Louis, where he is a computer programmer. Blackman says several SIU-SW graduates are in computer programming at McDonnell. "I was lucky twice," he says. "First, I got the job I wanted. Second, I got to live in this area. I waited six months before accepting a job because I knew what I wanted."

"There is no brain drain as far as SIU-SW talent in this area is concerned," Blackman says. "Most of our friends' wives Susan also attended SIU-SW—have remained in this area by choice. They look here first and so elsewhere only if jobs aren't available in this area."

Man Has 10-20 Years To Live, Briton Says

Taylor said that the "mental revolution" is 300 years behind the mechanical revolution, and that man has neglected his own understanding. Machines have been developed by man to perform functions while man has failed to learn to understand himself, the scientist said.

Taylor said that research on the function of the brain was begun in 1870, when it was determined the brain was the central organ of the body. Researchers have found that behavior is involuntary. Scientists are able to remove portions of the brain to curtail aggressiveness in criminals, Taylor said.

"The Shape of Minds to Come," which was the title of Taylor's presentation, will involve the ability to control intellectual growth and the emotional education of people, rather than the further development of the machines, he said.

Taylor was a speaker for the Artist-Lecturer Series at SIU-SW.

'Officer Friendly' at Niedringhaus PTA

Girl Scout Troop 330, under the direction of Mrs. Jo Ann Dix, presented the colors and led Niedringhaus School PTA members in the pledge of allegiance and a song at a meeting held Tuesday night at the school.

Those taking part in the ceremony were Linda Bell, Donna Lilly, Debbie Barnes, Deborah Fuz, Gina Fox and Diane Dix. "Officer Friendly" Don Knight, a patrolman in the Granite City Police Department, presented the same interesting program that has been offered in other schools.

Through the use of posters, magic tricks and audience participation, the officer reminded the children of safety rules and that policemen are friendly and that policemen are in the police department's budget.

Knight stated the "Officer Friendly" series is presented on a volunteer basis since the program is not included in the police department's budget.

With the exception of two school buildings, all Granite City schools have now been visited with younger students viewing similar "Officer Friendly" programs, he added.

The Rev. Kenneth Brand offered the invocation, and reports by Mrs. Elizabeth Edwards and Mrs. LaVonne Roberson were given in the business session.

PTA members who accepted positions of leadership in the 1972-73 school year are Gary Carne, program; Mrs. Clementine Wadlow, hospitality; Mrs. Sharon Alexander, treasurer; Mrs. Linda Hutchings, membership chairman; and Mrs. Billi Bagel, room mother chairman.

Refreshments were served in the cafeteria by Mesdames Billi Bagel, Judy Brokaw, Sandy Brokaw, Gloria Davis, Marga-

Channel 9 Series On Drug Abuse

Facts about drug use and abuse will be presented in a six-week television series, titled "Nobody But Yourself," beginning April 5 at 7 p.m. Wednesday, on educational television station KETV-TV, Channel 9.

The six 30-minute programs are designed to help junior high school students make responsible decisions about drugs.

The programs in the series have a dual focus on the factual and behavioral aspects of drug use.

Medical and legal ramifications are examined, and then the programs explore social pressures, loneliness, and the difficulties of being "nobody but yourself," all of which are among the crises said to turn many young people to drugs.

The series stresses responsible decision-making regarding drug use, and seeks to offer alternative ways of dealing with the growing-up problem that frequently lead to drug use.

In an effort to promote honesty about drugs, plus guidance and reassurance from the school and home, teachers and parents are being encouraged to watch the series along with their pre-teens and junior high school-age children.

A viewer's packet—containing an illustrated guide, a booklet of readings titled "Adolescence for Adults" and six posters—is available for $2 to Channel 9 members who wish to enroll in the series. Membership is open to anyone who supports the commercial public television station with an annual tax-deductible contribution of $15 (personal) or $25 (family).

To enroll in "Nobody But Yourself," or to obtain membership information, Quad-Cityans may write Channel 9, 696 Millbrook, St. Louis, Mo. 63130.

Griffith Extradited In Murder Case

Claude Griffith, 46, formerly of Madison, has been returned to Madison County to face a murder charge following extradition proceedings in St. Louis.

He and two other men were indicted in the murder of Leroy Johnson who was slain at the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Pike of near Edwardsville, on Jan. 28, 1971. Attempts to find the body have failed.

Griffith, who told authorities he lives in Alton, Ohio, had not been found after the grand jury returned the indictment in February, 1971, until he was arrested by FBI agents in St. Louis last December. He fought extradition.

Circuit Judge William Beatty on Tuesday reduced his bond from $50,000 to $25,000 on a motion by William Brandt, Griffith's attorney. He said Griffith had been free on $7,500 bond in St. Louis. State's Attorney Roland Griffith opposed the reduction.

Indicted with Griffith were Don Lyons, 39, and Tolman Conway, 44. The case against the two ended in a mistrial on Jan. 6, and the charge against Lyons and Griffith may begin next month.

State Must Act Or Lose Part of Highway Revenue

Illinois Attorney General William J. Scott warned Tuesday that Illinois faces loss of $3.24 million in federal grants this year for road construction unless the General Assembly acts promptly to meet federal standards regulating billboards along federal primary and inter-state highways in Illinois.

Scott, whose representatives have met with U.S. officials in billboard legislation, said the only way to insure that Illinois will receive its full share of federal money will be for the legislature to concur in an amendment to delete two sections of the original bill questioned by the federal Department of Transportation.

Scott has advised Ogilvie that Illinois faces the loss of $3,240,000 in federal grants for this year because of changes by the legislature in the Administration's bill in the last session. The changes would permit "spot zoning" of billboards.

The 1965 Federal Highway Beautification Act, which provides for a grant-in-aid to states for highway construction, requires that billboards must be set back at least 660 feet from highways. The federal law fur-

Robert Beedle Resigns Nameoki Town Board Post

Robert Beedle, 57 Cambridge St., resigned as a town auditor of Nameoki Township during the regular town board meeting Monday night.

Beedle, who was elected to the town board in April 1969, submitted his resignation in writing and informed the board that demands of his business as a salesman makes it impossible to devote sufficient time to the elective post.

Beedle was elected on a ticket whose members replaced most of the previous town board members aligned with former Supervisor Harry Briggs. The vacancy created by his resignation will be filled by appointment.

The board Monday night also received a letter from John Guillou, director of the Illinois Division of Waterways, suggesting a possible new route for construction of a drainage ditch to drain the Doherty Slough area. The plan would bypass a part of the right-of-way still needed for the project as presently planned. The letter was placed on file.

A letter also was received from the Madison County Environmental Council urging township officials to join in opposition to rezoning of a 772-acre tract in Chouteau and Edwardsville townships for a multi-million residential-recreational-commercial development. No action was taken on the letter.

The board agreed to study requests of residents along Arnold Drive for more traffic controls.

Local Pastors to Discuss 'Key 73'

The Quad-Cities Ministerial Association will discuss how the churches of this community can take part in "Key 73" project during their April 4 meeting to open at 9 a.m. at Niedringhaus United Methodist Church.

The Rev. Ken Klingerman of the "Key 73" headquarters in St. Louis will attend and lead the discussion. Pastors from all denominations have been invited to attend, he said.

Lutheran, Southern Baptist, Assemblies of God, United Methodist and 90 more churches have embraced this "mass call to Christian witness and involvement." Rev. Klingerman said.

"Key 73 is no bureaucratic program," the executive director of the "Key 73" Central Committee, Dr. Theodore Raedke of St. Louis, a Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod churchman, said.

The overall theme of the program will be implemented in six phases. "This massive evangelism program will be focused on local church activities and will not be dominated by any denomination," Raedke added.

Contract Talks Continue

Contract talks between Consolidated Aluminum Co. (Consolidated in Venice and United Steelworkers of America Local 480) were scheduled to continue today. Representatives of the two parties also met yesterday. The present contract is due to expire April 30.

Easter Bunny Visits Cub Scout Pack Seven

A visit by the Easter bunny climaxed the March meeting of Cub Pack Seven of St. Joseph's Catholic Church. Prior to the arrival of the "bunny," prayers were presented and awards were made.

Theme for the night was "Pies and Hobbies," as announced by the committee chairman, Joe Geisler, who welcomed all to the meeting. The opening was by Den Two scouts who gave "History of Our Flag," directed by their leader, Mrs. Myrna Geisler, and Den Chief Darren Geisler. Participating were Robert Mungovan, Joseph DeLuna, Tim Geisler, Tim Burns, Mike Bennett and John Mungovan. The den then led the pledge of allegiance.

Den One, Steven Payne, George Buhmann, John Buhmann, Perry Perdue, David Price, Mark Wallace and John Waggoner, gave a play, "The Doggy Story," assisted by Den Chief Bryant Snee. Leader is Mrs. Kathy Wallace, assisted by Kathy Stanfill.

Webelos Scout Richard Buecker demonstrated catapult made as a requirement for the engineer award, and told the way to read a passenger timetable. Webelos leader is Mrs. Bert Buhmann.

Craft items displayed and reported on were Easter rabbit made from bowling pins, Cub promise plaques and a yard owl wall hanging.

Mrs. Geisler presided at a candlelight ceremony as Mike Bennett, assisted by his mother, Mrs. Norma Bennett, recited the three silver arrows for the bear badge.

Other awards presented by Cubmaster Andy Timko went to: Mark Wallace silver arrow and recruiter stripe; Steven Payne, den bar and recruiter stripe; George Buhmann, assistant den bar; Richard Buecker, traveler badge; and to the story of Robinson Crusoe. The book was written in 1719.

Curacao and Aruba are distinctly Dutch, Latin and African cultures, while Antigua, Guadeloupe and Martinique show a definite French influence in their culture, the Brooks said.

Concluding their "international report," the couple pointed out on the island of Trinidad the people and architecture are a combination of European, Chinese and Indian.

The meeting was held at Prather Junior High School. The club will meet in April at the same location.

Day Camp Set in June For Handicapped Youth

The annual summer day camp for area handicapped children will take place June 12 through June 23 in Wilson Park. It was announced Monday evening at a meeting of the Granite City Association for Retarded Children.

Mrs. Hazel Kynion, GCAR president, said Miss Margaret Roberts, a teacher at Maryville School, will return to direct the day camp program this summer.

Reports on activities at the National Association for Retarded Children's convention in Omaha, Neb., were presented by Mrs. Evelyn Gavin and Mrs. Kynion, who attended the event last week.

Also discussed were plans for a proposed residential housing program to be sponsored by the local association. Residential centers, similar to the one proposed here, have been successful elsewhere in the country.

Residential housing units permit young adults to leave institutional life. The program enables others to live in the special housing centers when parents or guardians are unable to care for a young handicapped adult in later years, Mrs. Kynion explained.

Comparison studies of various residential housing projects are being investigated by the local association, which was represented at a recent state-wide seminar on the problem by Mrs. Emma Rellike, Mrs. Kynion, Mrs. Audrey Lewis and Mrs. Genevieve Hellrich.

Auto Strikes Pole

Attempting to park, an auto driven by John Ivanic, East St. Louis, struck a utility pole at 7:05 p.m. Tuesday at 19th Street and Edison Avenue.

Sam Fox Named to Top Diversified Post

Sam Fox of Creve Coeur, Mo., was elected president of Diversified Industries, Inc., at a meeting of the board of directors Monday. He also was named chief executive officer.

The diversified firm absorbed Fox Industries, Inc. of Madison, a company formed several years ago by Fox and his brother, on Dec. 20, 1970, in exchange for 70,000 shares of Diversified stock with a market value of about $892,000.

Fox Industries operated an industrial park in Madison and manufactured powdered metals, warehouse bulk commodities and produced concrete additives at plants in Madison, Sauget and East St. Louis.

Fox, 42, was named vice-president of corporate development for Diversified early last year. Ben Fixman, founder of Diversified Industries and former president, will retain the title of board chairman under the corporation's new lineup.

Fox gained national attention when he purchased the Santa Maria, a replica of Columbus' flagship for $1 after the vessel was wrecked in a thunderstorm while moored on the St. Louis riverfront.

He had the vessel restored and returned it to the riverfront as a tourist attraction. The Santa Maria was sold to a promotional firm last year.

Car Vandalized

Herbert Wright, East St. Louis, told police at 10:30 a.m. Wednesday that vandals cut the vinyl top of his car and scratched the paint around the body of the auto while it was parked at Logan and Weaver streets in Venice.

Auto Looted

Burglars took five bottles of soft drinks, a box of candy and a plastic parking lot card from the car of Jo Ann Campbell, Apartment 2, 102 Douglas St., Venice, while the vehicle was parked at her home at 1:15 p.m. Tuesday.

In addition to Shuman and Burrow, the stockholders elected to the IP board:

Intruders removed a glass panel from a door on the west side of Louis Boer School in Madison and searched several classrooms and the principal's office, a custodian reported at 8:10 a.m. Tuesday. Several desks were left open. It was unknown if anything was taken. An inventory will be conducted when school resumes following Easter vacation.

Miss Mount will be married to Alan Sauthoff of Russell, Kan., on April 8 at Tri-City Park Tabernacle.

ENGAGED, Miss Annetta Wilson, whose engagement to John E. Podner has just been made known. The bride-elect is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Wilson, 2132 State St.

Podner-Wilson Betrothal Told

The engagement of Miss Annetta Wilson and John E. Podner, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack T. Podner of Rural Route Two, Granite City, is being announced today by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Wilson, 2132 State St.

Miss Wilson, a nursing student at SIU-SW, is a graduate of Granite City High School. Her fiancé was graduated from Granite City High School and received his A.B. degree from Illinois College in Jacksonville, where he was elected to membership in Phi Beta Kappa. He also holds an M.A. degree in English from Fairleigh Dickinson University in New Jersey.

At the present time, Mr. Podner teaches English and serves as chairman of the English Department at Roxana Senior High School.

The betrothed couple is planning to be married this autumn.

Central Christian Easter Schedule

The congregation of Central Christian Church, 2020 Johnson Road, will celebrate the "Day of Resurrection" at 10:45 a.m. Easter Sunday.

The observance will open with the Sanctuary Choir singing "The Strife Is Over" and the members will join in the hymn "Christ the Lord Is Risen Today."

"Easter is the Birthday of Life" is the topic of a sermon to be offered by the Rev. Dr. L. Jim Anthis, pastor, at the Easter services.

Church members will share in "it's life together through the act of baptism and the sharing of the Lord's Supper," the minister said. The Choral Anthem will be "Ask Ye What Great Things I Know."

Slim, Trim Governor Tells How He Did It

RICHARD B. OGILVIE

By the time this column is in print, my wife and daughter and I will be on vacation. It's our first trip to Europe together, and I am just as enthused as the women in my life.

The only problem I anticipate is keeping my diet when I run into some of the best cooking in Europe.

So many people have asked me about my diet that I might as well share it with you. I am struck, incidentally, by the great interest in what I thought was a strictly personal problem.

Perhaps this tells us something about ourselves — and about the common problems that tend to make us one.

Recently, in Arlington Heights, I was making an appearance and the local Weight Watchers turned out in force.

Several of the women wanted to know my "secret."

I'm afraid I don't have one — unless it's the word "no."

Unlike most dieters, I have very little choice of what's put in front of me at many meals. There are banquets and luncheons galore, and many breakfasts and lunches in hotels and restaurants.

When I'm at home, the problem is simple and I solve it without a slide rule or calorie chart.

Breakfast consists of freshly-squeezed grapefruit juice and black coffee, and I must say I'm getting quite used to it.

But the first few days of the diet, my stomach thought my throat had been pronounced me fit. The rest of the day it's just a matter of being "picky" about what I eat, contrary to the teachings of my dear mother.

Like most mothers, she always insisted I clean my plate.

Well, that's out for dieters. When I have no choice of how high my plate is piled, I simply say NO to all that food.

No starches, no desserts, no fats — and a sparing helping of whatever else is on my plate.

Frankly, I've been amazed at the loss in weight I've registered over several months without becoming "uptight" about my diet.

Like most dieters, I took a look at myself last year and said:

"This can't be. Something's got to be done!"

I was about to say that the proof of the pudding is in the eating — but I had better avoid any such reference to fattening food.

At the top, I tipped the scales at 234, and my suits and neck size were uncomfortably proportional to that weight figure.

When I passed the mark of 210, I recalled that that was my football weight in college, pretty heavy for a man 5'9" tall.

My first goal was 190. On the day I hit 189½, recently, I set a new goal of 180. But I intend to take my time getting there.

For those of you who might worry about such a loss weight — particularly you women — let me assure you that my doctor pronounces me fit.

I feel fit, and my suits of five years ago fit, too.

Now I like sports more than men, but my schedule simply doesn't allow me time for a whole lot of exercise.

Except for a little "dynamic tension" — flexing one muscle against another — my exercise consists of a few rounds of golf and a couple of hunting trips a year.

And on the last such trip, I developed such an appetite after a day outdoors that my morning weigh-in was a bust.

So I know what I face, and it's probably true of any mature person who has a weight problem:

For the rest of my life, I will have to have a whole new pattern of eating habits. There's no going back to the easy ways that made me see the tailor more and more often.

Even when tempted by the food in Rome, which they tell me is delicious, I will have to remember that advice to myself.

My wife and daughter look awfully trim to me, but even they are prepared to say "no" on our trip together.

For those of you with weight problems, I can only say that it isn't easy, but you can do the job once you make up your mind.

The arrival in the United States of Risto Evangelovski of Skopje, Yugoslavia, marked the reunion after 36 years between the visitor and his sister, Mrs. Victoria Kostoff of Madison.

Mr. Evangelovski is vacationing here for three months with his father, John Evangelovski, 1225 Iowa St., Madison. Mrs. Kostoff resides at the same address.

Many difficult barriers were overcome including years when the family lost all contact with each other, before the reunion took place here last week between brother and sister, Mrs. Kostoff explained.

She said her father first came to the U. S. in 1921 from Greece-Macedonia. He returned home several times to visit his family before his wife, Risto, and daughter, Victoria, were able to join him here in 1936. Mrs. Evangelovski died in 1968.

Risto, who was in the Greek Army when the Evangelovskis emigrated, was unable to leave with them. Mrs. Kostoff said he remained in the Army and attained the rank of captain.

Immediately after World War II, Risto was forced to flee with his father from Greece-Macedonia to Czechoslovakia. A sister, Tina Poczaski and her family, also left Greece-Macedonia in the mid-1940s, settling in Skopje, Yugoslavia.

Border changes and internal strife in the middle European countries following World War II caused the Evangelovskis to lose all contact with their children. Risto and his family, who seemed to have disappeared completely, were very difficult to trace, Mrs. Kostoff noted.

To aid them in their search the Madison couple enlisted the help of the American Red Cross. Using its resources at the international level, the Red Cross discovered the whereabouts of both Tina and Risto in the 1950s.

Mr. and Mrs. Evangelovski were overjoyed to find their children were alive and well and, in 1958, they boarded a plane for Yugoslavia to visit their daughter in Skopje.

Risto was able to travel from Czechoslovakia to Yugoslavia to be reunited with his parents, Mrs. Kostoff said.

Efforts made by Tina's husband eventually led to Risto, his wife and children immigrating to Yugoslavia and they settled in Skopje. The Evangelovskis, accompanied by a grandson, James Kostoff of Madison, returned to Skopje in 1962 for another visit.

Mrs. Kostoff, however, was urged to make either trip to Europe and had not seen her brother until the pair was reunited last week.

Survey on Consumer Buying Scheduled

A number of households in this area will be included in a nationwide survey on consumer buying and home improvement expectations to be conducted the first week in April by the Bureau of the Census, according to Guy A. Lutz, director of the Bureau's Data Collection Center in St. Paul.

Householders will be asked about plans to buy a house, a car, and major household appliances during the next year. Questions about home repairs and alterations will concern those made during the past three months and those planned for the near future.

The Census Bureau conducts a survey of buying expectations and home repairs every three months to serve as a guide to U. S. economic growth. A scientifically selected group of households throughout the country serves as a measure of what U. S. families own and what they expect to buy in the near future.

For example, the January 1972 survey indicated that consumer plans to buy new cars were slightly below the level of October 1971, and that plans to buy houses, appliances, or furniture, or to make home improvements, continued to be high.

Households in the survey will not be identified. Their answers are confidential, and information obtained will be used only for statistical purposes.

The Census Bureau representative in this area is Mrs. Mary Lou Gallagher of Edwardsville.

Hearings Now Necessary to Suspend Driver's Licenses

Uninsured motorists involved in accidents in Illinois no longer can have their drivers licenses suspended without a pre-suspension hearing to establish fault or liability.

Secretary of State John W. Lewis explained that the Illinois Safety Responsibility Law, in a U. S. District Court decision handed down last year, was declared unconstitutional as previously administered. The law in itself was not declared unconstitutional.

Secretary Lewis further explained that prior to the decision the Illinois S-R law provided for loss of driving or registration privileges if the uninsured motorist failed to file a report of the accident or could not post security in the amount of the damages.

The S-R law applies if an accident results in death, personal injury or property damage in excess of $50. The first requirement of the law is to file an accident report with the Department of Transportation including evidence of public liability and property damage insurance. All motorist involved in the accident are required to file a report if the accident involves a death, personal injury or property damage in excess of $100.

The uninsured motorist, whether or not he was at fault, in the past was required to deposit security in the form of cash, surety bond or bank money order unless he could submit releases from the other parties relieving him from liability.

In addition, proof of future financial responsibility was required to be maintained for three years. This was in the form of a certificate of insurance, a $25,000 bond or $25,000 in cash. The State legislature removed this last requirement when it amended the Illinois

Vehicle Code in July of last year (88 297).

The suspension of an uninsured motorist's drivers license without a hearing was first challenged in Georgia in a case that went to the U. S. Supreme Court. In a decision rendered in May 1971, the Court held that the Director of the Georgia Department of Public Safety could not suspend driving privileges under the Georgia Safety Responsibility Law unless the uninsured motorist was afforded a pre-suspension administrative hearing and the issue of the reasonable possibility of a civil judgment being entered against such uninsured motorist was determined as an element in the administrative hearing.

The Supreme Court stated that failure to give the uninsured motorist a prior hearing on fault or responsibility denied him procedural due process in violation of the Fourteenth Amendment.

April 2-8 Set as Auctioneer's Week

The National Auctioneers Association has proclaimed the week of April 2 through April 8 as "National Auctioneers Week." Lyman "Bud" Worthen of Granite City is a member of the association.

The auction way of selling is one of the oldest methods of bartering and dates back to before 1,000 B.C. Throughout the U. S. and all the free countries of the world, the auction method of selling real or personal property is growing very rapidly, Worthen noted.

America's leading auctioneers are members of the National Auctioneers Association, 3,000 strong. These members are continually striving to render better services to their clients through mutual exchanges of ideas and experiences and pledge themselves to conduct their business according to the code of ethics set out by the National Auctioneers Association, Worthen said.

Federal Official Favors Farms, Parks Rather Than Homes and Firms; Reply by County Official

A letter by a federal official has called for a virtual end to development in the west-of-the-bluffs area of Madison County. Addressed to Howard W. Kaseberg of Granite City, chairman of the Madison County Zoning Board of Appeals, the letter was sent by John L. Wanner, director of the Chicago Area Office of Region V, U. S. Department of Housing and Urban Development.

The letter is critical of a mobile home-golf course-commercial-light industrial development proposed for the area east of Highway 111 and north of Interstate 270.

A reply disagreeing with Director Wanner's negative conclusion has been written by Jack Clifford, Madison County building official, on behalf of the Madison County Zoning Department and the Zoning Board of Appeals.

Following are the letter to Chairman Kaseberg from Mr. Wanner and then the comments by Mr. Clifford.

Dear Mr. Kaseberg:

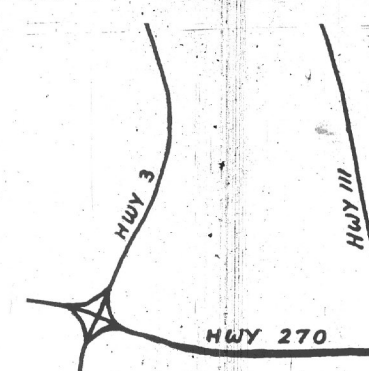

We have received a copy of a Feb. 11, 1972, letter addressed to you from the Coalition for the Environment of the St. Louis Region, expressing concern about a rezoning request for a 770-acre parcel of land in the American Bottoms.

The main concerns as outlined in the letter are the precedent of granting the rezoning request which may lead to extensive environmental damage in the American Bottoms and the massive investment that would be required in order to remove or ameliorate constraints to urban development present in the Bottoms.

Our office wants to express its full support for the concerns outlined in the letter and join in the efforts to prevent the rezoning request from being granted.

PROPOSED DEVELOPMENT is shown in this Press-Record staff drawing. Elements include: A, industrial park, 40 acres; B, mobile home park and golf course, 543 acres; C, apartment complex, 89 acres; and D, commercial area, 100 acres. The lower (southern) border of the D section parallels old Bypass Route 66. Farther to the south is Interstate 270, and to the west are Illinois Highways too great or if the development of the area includes the land from development.

2. HUD participates in the funding of SIMAPC for the preparation of land use, water, sewer and other plans for the three-county area.

Indeed, HUD assisted in the preparation of the Madison County Plan cited in the letter which shows the area in question left in agriculture and open space due to flood potential.

SIMAPC is now involved in the preparation of a HUD-assisted water and sewer plan and a U. S. Environmental Protection Agency-assisted Water Quality Management Plan for the three-county area, both based on the land use assumptions of the county plans.

The investment in terms of federal and local dollars involved in the preparation of these plans is a waste if these plans are not to be followed by requirements, the withdrawal or curtailment of federal planning funds for the area would mean a heavier financial burden on local governments to develop the required plans.

Three and 111. To the east of the project are the Route 157 interchange and the Southwestern campus of Southern Illinois University. The Madison County Board of Supervisors is scheduled to take action April 19 on the multi-million-dollar development, whose backers include Mayor Mike Sasyk of Madison.

3. HUD's Water and Sewer Grant Assistance Program has assisted many communities and townships in Madison County to construct needed water and sewer facilities.

The U. S. EPA has also funded many a waste water treatment plant in the area.

Both HUD's and EPA's construction grant programs are connected to planning requirements which in effect say that construction grant requests for an area must form a part of the comprehensive plan and, more particularly, of the functional (water or waste water) development plan for the area.

Both HUD and EPA, as mentioned before, have assisted the area in developing plans that will change markedly if the rezoning request for the American Bottoms is granted.

The whole system of water and waste water facilities now proposed in accordance with the comprehensive plan will change if the American Bottoms are allowed to urbanize.

Needless to say, construction grant requests for development in the American Bottoms will not be approved by us in view of the mandate of Executive Order 11296 and our support of the Madison County Plan which takes the executive order into account.

Further, the disregard of the Madison County Plan in this rezoning request will impair consideration of other grant requests in the county that do not involve the American Bottoms.

The issue is whether plans once developed will be upheld or not in the interest of sound, orderly, economic and environmentally suitable growth.

We await the outcome of this rezoning request with great optimism that the sound concepts of the Madison County Plan will be upheld.

In view of the importance of this decision, my staff will be glad to meet with you to discuss the points raised in this letter if you deem it necessary.

JOHN L. WANER
Director

The Madison County Zoning Board of Appeals and myself have taken the position that the American Bottoms, because of its geographical location, should be developed in some manner other than for recreational and/or farm land.

It is not good planning to say that because of certain soil conditions that this land is not proper drainage, coupled with water and sewer facilities, could result in another city comparable to Granite City or Alton being constructed in this area.

The U. S. Department of Soil Conservation Study shows that the American Bottoms consists of Darwin-Karnal-Burrows Associations type soil strata.

It is their recommendation that this type soil is undesirable to develop in any way other than open land or recreational uses. If we are to accept this recommendation without question then we are saying the Cities of Granite City, Madison, Venice, Hartford, Roxana, South Roxana, Wood River and East Alton should never have been allowed to come into existence.

The aforementioned strata consist of 83,000 acres of our county where approximately 80,000 people reside, which con-the location of the municipalities which encompass the area.

3. The proposed shopping center, apartment complex and mobile home park, complete with an 18-hole golf course, would provide much needed housing and recreation in this locale and increase the present assessed valuations of subject property a hundred times.

4. The surrounding properties would increase in value many times, provide much needed a larger tax base to help support any drainage district which could be created to correct said drainage.

5. The problem of drainage is not the sole responsibility of Mike Sasyk and Edy Duko, but their willingness to help solve these problems is a giant step forward.

6. Mr. Mike Ebersold, of the East Side Levee and Sanitary District, testified under oath that said district would help in every way possible to solve the problem and would work with any governmental agency, be it county or state, to accomplish this goal.

7. The conditions of the soils at this location are no different than that of Arlington Heights and other areas which have been developed in the American Bottoms, and should be developed accordingly.

8. The Zoning Board suggests that the Madison County Board of Supervisors lend their support and participation in correcting the drainage problems in the American Bottoms in an effort to bring new developments into our county.

The question of taxes has been raised by the Granite City School District, and for this reason I would like to point out some very important facts concerning taxation of mobile home parks.

Madison County now has the power to assess mobile homes up to 15 cents a square foot and is going to start collecting this tax in July of 1973.

The average mobile home will be paying approximately $108 per acre and this does not include what the operator of the court will be taxed per lot and improvements.

The national average for school-age children living in mobile home parks and attending public schools is .42 children per mobile home.

The national statistics of children attending schools who live in single-family conventional housing is approximately 1.8.

MORE ABOUT Federal Official

trict has the highest education rate of any school district in Madison County; according to information furnished by the superintendent of schools, this rate is $2.211 or 63.79%.

The total operating cost per student, in the year 1970-1971, was $88.13. Of this total figure, the state of Illinois paid $430.07 of the total operating costs per student.

The federal government participated in a very small way on the balance furnished by the local school districts.

It would be safe to assume, based on the figures available, that of the $88.13, the local school district was required to furnish only half of said total amount.

The new Mobile Home Taxing Agency will be paying the entire tax collected, less administrative costs, to local school districts. The amount of money allocated by the County Board of Supervisors to the Licensing and Investigating Department was $21,236.00.

The total amount of money, based upon the number of mobile homes now in Madison County, would be in excess of $250,000.00.

Using the aforementioned statistics on conventional housing and mobile home courts would indicate that, on a per-student basis, the student living in a mobile home court would be paying more taxes toward the educational institution than the student in conventional housing.

The individuals that live in mobile home courts, based upon the national average, have relatively few children as compared to the other modes of living.

The problem of taxation is not of direct concern to the Madison County Zoning Department nor the Zoning Board of Appeals. The legislative branches of our government are solely responsible for the tax structure and, if there are inequities in brought to the attention of the legislature in an effort to have the situation corrected or equalized.

Madison County is in dire need of new industrial and residential developments. As an example, Miles Laboratories, closing March 31 of this year, which will mean several hundred jobs lost in the Tri-Cities area.

The steel companies in our county have been confronted with financial setbacks because of foreign imports for the past five years. In some instances, they have reached critical stages, whereby it is questionable as to whether they will be able to continue in the near future.

In light of our present economic conditions and unemployment, it would seem unlikely for any group of people or organizations to oppose any major developments which would upgrade our economic and social structure.

In closing, I want to make it quite clear that the comments contained herein depict only the position of the Madison County Zoning Department and the Board of Appeals, and do not in any way reflect any other unit of government.

The Madison County Board of Supervisors, which makes the laws of our county, has empowered the Board of Appeals to make recommendations and promulgate its own rules, in order to implement the intent and purpose of our Zoning Ordinance.

I have merely stated, in general, the reasons for the Board's position relative to any and all developments in the American Bottoms.

The event was conducted in inclement weather which held some of the times down. The winners were Bruce and Jim Thorne in an hour and 57 minutes, two minutes off the record set last year by Evans and Tom Beck.

Five groups of runners ran the trail. The starting point is the top of Taum Sauk Mountain, 1,772 feet above sea level, the highest point in Missouri.

The Explorers ran down hill to Taum Sauk Creek, 900 feet above sea level. They ran three miles along the creek, then ascended to the top of Profit Mountain, 1,600 feet high, then to Johnson's Shut-In State Park which served as base camp for the trip. Total running distance is 10 miles.

In the afternoon the post toured the Taum Sauk pumped storage hydro plant operated by Union Electric Co. and one of the largest of its kind in the world. It supplies electricity to four states and was built at a cost of $50 million.

The group also visited the nature museum near the plant. Some members hiked back from the upper reservoir of the plant to the base camp, a distance of three miles across Profit Mountain.

Hunt for Easter Eggs at GC Park Skating Rink Saturday

Plans are complete for the 1972 Easter egg hunt of the Granite City Park District Saturday at the Wilson Park ice skating rink. The eggs will be placed in mounds of straw inside the rink pavilion.

Only pre-school through first grade youngsters will be eligible to seek 3,400 foil-wrapped eggs in this year's hunt, Park Supt. Harold Brown said. In previous years, children up to the third grade level were encouraged to take part.

The youthful hunters must be residents of the Granite City Park District. Each child must provide his own basket or container in which to gather the eggs.

First grade pupils will start their hunt at 9 a.m. Saturday; youngsters in kindergarten at 10:30 a.m.; and pre-schoolers (four years and under) at 1 p.m.

Duplicate prizes (large chocolate Easter bunnies) will be awarded in each age group to the boy and girl gathering the most eggs.

Also, the youngster collecting the greatest number of eggs in each age category will receive a chocolate rabbit.

Large "heavenly hash" eggs will be presented to children; the boy and girl gathering the most eggs.

Success of the 1971 hunt, which departed the traditional hunting grounds on the grassy areas and baseball diamonds in Wilson Park for drier climes in the rink, prompted the district to use the same setting this weekend.

Several hunts in recent years were marred by inclement weather, resulting in disappointed children when the event was postponed or delayed.

Bales of straw were strewn about the park rink and hundreds of chocolate eggs will be hidden in the straw.

Due to the increased number of youngsters now taking part in the annual event, the same

Over Half of Students At Senior Universities Receiving Tuition Aid

Copley News Service

Springfield—A little more than half the 122,967 full-time equivalent students attending Illinois public-supported senior universities received some form of tuition waivers or monetary grants during the current school year.

A report released by the State Board of Higher Education shows that, during the current year, 26,210 undergraduates received monetary benefits from the Illinois State Scholarship Commission, another 37,733 received statutory tuition waivers and 5,368 received institutional tuition waivers.

Total cost to the state for these benefits was $31.3 million. In addition, 8,968 graduate students received institutional tuition waivers worth another $4.7 million.

Though numbers, and costs, of institutional and statutory tuition waivers are expected to be reduced sharply in the next three years, overall education grant costs are not expected to decline, since ISSC grants are expected to continue to increase.

A total of $59.3 million has been recommended for the next year, carrying out the full funding concept which would provide the all eligible and financially needy students who properly apply will receive aid in relation to their needs, up to the maximum set by the Higher Education Student Assistance law.

Statutory tuition waivers are those which were authorized by the General Assembly. They include such categories as teacher education, special education and veterans' scholarships.

Institutional waivers are those issued at the discretion of the institutions themselves. They include such groups as staff, disadvantaged students, talent students, foreign students and other special groups.

Illinois State Scholarship Commission awards are monetary grants made to students at public senior institutions, based on demonstrated financial need.

During 1971, there were 2,339 fewer teacher education waivers granted than had been awarded during a comparable period in 1970, the result of legislative action in the spring of 1971 which ended the issuance of any new teacher education or Department of Public Aid statutory waivers, as of Jan. 1, 1972.

During the next three years, those already issued will be phased out, resulting in a continual decrease for the next three years in this category.

Not included in the General Assembly's action were special education teacher scholarships.

The bulk—nearly 87%—of all statutory tuition waivers presently in effect represent "either teacher education or veterans' waivers, accounting for $14.5 million of the total estimated $16.2 million in statutory tuition waivers this year.

Institutional waivers were issued to 14,366 students—undergraduates and 5,968 graduate students—for a total cost of approximately $7.2 million.

These numbers will also drop in coming years, since the Board in December 1970 took action to limit to 2% of the total equivalent full undergraduate enrollment the number of institutional tuition waivers to be awarded.

This goal is expected to be met as all state-supported senior institutions by the 1974-75 school year.

Awards and dollars granted in ISSC grants in the last four academic years have soared, reflecting increasing numbers both of students and awards.

In the 1968-69 school year, 11,300 awards for a total of $2.88 million were made. These figures rose to 16,181 grants for $5.33 million the following year, 20,826 awards for $6.36 million for the 1970-71 academic year, and 26,210 grants for $12.60 million in the current year.

Free Cotton Seeds Provide New Hobby

"Oh, I wish I was in the land of cotton," is a wish of many, according to the lyrics of an old song.

Mrs. D. J. Klassen of Barnhart, Tex., said this week that many who cannot take time to go there can bring a bit of that land into their homes by growing cotton indoors as a hobby.

Mrs. Klassen is a shut-in who grows cotton plants in her home as a hobby and supplies cotton seeds to friends. Her hobby has grown so large that she now has 10,000 packets of cotton seeds ready to plant and has run out of interested persons to plant them.

In a letter received this week, Mrs. Klassen offered free cotton seeds to schools, groups and individuals who would like to see if they have a "white" thumb. All who send her a self-addressed stamped envelope will be sent packets of the seeds free of charge.

Her address is P.O. Box 447, Barnhart, Tex. 76330.

14 Candidates on Ballots for Nine Quad-City Seats on County Board; Five Without Opposition

Quad-City voters will go to the polls again on Tuesday, April 4, this time to elect nine members of a new County Board established under Madison County's one-man, one-vote redistricting. Twenty other board members are to be elected from a like number of board districts in other parts of the county.

Separate ballots will be voted in each of the nine board districts in the Quad-City area—Districts 16, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25 and 26.

Fourteen candidates are seeking the board seats in the Quad-City, including nine Democrats, four Republicans and one independent.

In five of the nine districts there are no Republican candidates on the ballot, although provision is made to write in a choice in each district. Paper ballots will be used.

There is a three-way race in District 16 where an independent candidate, James Greer Jr., an 18-year-old SIU-SW student is opposing Democrat Albert E. Doerr of South Roxana, and Republican Roy M. Grover, of Rural Route One, Granite City. There are no other independent candidates in the other eight districts of the Quad-Cities.

District 16 encompasses Chouteau Township precincts 1, 2, 4, 5, 6 and 7 and Nameoki Township precinct 3. Doerr won the Democratic nomination in that district in the Feb. 8 primary by defeating Walter Sparks, incumbent supervisor of Chouteau Township.

Sir Burton Was A Whiz at Chess As a Teenager

Editor's Note: Sir Richard F. Burton, 1821-1890, was an English soldier, author, translator of "Arabian Nights" and explorer. He led the expedition which resulted in locating the source of the River Nile. This is another in a series on what famous people were like in their teens.

By BETT ANDERSON
Capley News Service

If there ever were a wide generation gap, it was between Richard Burton and his parents back in 1824. They just could not communicate.

If they had been able to foresee the future, they would have known that their wayward son would turn out to be a famous explorer, author of over 40 books, translator of "Arabian Nights," and anthropologist.

But all through his teens, Richard was pushed by his parents toward being a minister. Probably no teenager was ever a more unlikely prospect for the pulpit than Richard Burton. To put it plainly, he was a juvenile delinquent. He worked hard at it. He was good at it.

And his parents, through their stupidity, were a great help. They were merciful, realists, people who never stayed in one place long enough for their children to make any friends.

With a good pension and nothing to do, Mr. Burton stayed around the house all day long and wrecked everybody's nerves. He was cranky and cross.

Actually, Richard was brilliant. At 14 he was so nifty at chess that he could play two games, blindfolded, at the same time. He could also get into a dozen different kinds of mischief at the same time.

After an epidemic of cholera along the coast of Italy, Richard put on shabby clothes and became a gravedigger's assistant. He made friends with some smugglers and decided their gay life of crime was a groovy profession. He drove his tutors up the wall with his uncanny ability to escape learning.

Girls found Richard irresistible. He was tall with dark hair, eyes that seemed to be hypnotic, and a devil-may-care attitude. He was an efficient boxer, a graceful fencer, a smoker of big cigars, and he could yodel like a native-born Swiss. He had great dash and flair.

None of these charming talents was much use to him when he entered Trinity College at Oxford in 1840, when he was 19. He was a big man on campus but not a teacher's pet.

But when Richard finally got around to doing his own thing, he became a superb linguist, student of religion, author, explorer, and known throughout the world for his obsessive ambition to trace the Nile River to its source.

Youth Focus

For Teeny-Boppers Its Year of the Osmonds

By JUDY HUGG
Copley News Service

For the Chinese it may be the Year of the Rat, but for most of the bubble-gummers, teeny-boppers and fans, it's the Year of the Osmond Brothers.

Performing before capacity crowds of shrieking, fainting young girls, it almost reminds one of the early Elvis days. The group seems to be destined for more than just a spurt on the rock 'n' roll scene.

This is evidenced in the popular response to Jimmy, the 8-year-old of the group. Although at the moment, Donny is taking the reins and is holding the mass in force.

However, the group's life expectancy is dependent and building on the forces that Jimmy is beginning to dominate. With Donny now running the show, it is difficult to say how long he may last, but with a Junior Elvis coming up, the group is in for sure.

Although classified as a teeny-bopper group, who can really knock 'em? They sell their songs. They come on strong and to mention just a few of their latest million-selling albums, we have: "The Osmonds, Homemade" (MGM), which features such hit cuts as "Double Lovin'," "A Taste of Honey" and "She Makes Me Warm."

"To You With Love" Donny is also doing super well with his album on MGM called "To You With Love," which like most of their albums was produced by Rick Hall. He also has out "The Donny Osmond Album," which includes such hits as his big solo "Sweet and Innocent," "Burning Bridges," and "Wake Up Little Susie."

Latest from the group is "The Osmonds Phase - III," again on MGM and it includes "Down By The Lazy River," "Super Hit," "Go-Go," and a collection of Osmond hits that will go down with the best of them in the mellow rock category. They have the talent and the backing that could make a great group, even on the hard rock scene, but would it be the Osmonds? No, not to their young followers, because it seems that they must run their route through the Andy Williams Show, into concert shows, albums and a television series. Their television series, "The Osmonds," will be an animated show and can be seen on the

ABC network starting sometime in September. It will bring the madcap adventures and music of these talented brothers to their fans and is based on the real-life personalities of each of the Osmonds. The stories focus on a world tour and each week the boys will be seen in a different country.

With a series to help promote their music, we should be hearing from them for a long time to come.

If it's guitar picking you're looking for, Leo Kotke is your man. His latest Capitol album "Greenhouse" is a collection of seven instrumentals and four vocals. Although he doesn't have a bad voice, he does himself a favor when sticking strictly to his hot acoustical guitar with unison overdubbing. Cuts to watch: "Bean Time," "Last Steam Engine Train" and "Lost John."

Columbia Masterworks has two new releases with Leonard Bernstein and the New York Philharmonic. Widely divergent in theme, both are performed with the excellence and verve their wide public admires.

A three-record set of "Favorite Light Classics" by Beethoven, Bernstein, Borodin, Chabrier, Grieg, Herold, Holst, Prokofiev, Copland, Falla, Glazov, Grieg, Grofe, Herold, Holst, Prokofiev, Offenbach, Rossini, Saint-Saens, Smetana, Johann Strauss, Tchaikovsky and Wagner is a musical education in itself. Each selection is interpreted in the liner notes and background given on the composer.

Opening with the rollicking "Dance of the Comedians" by Smetana, the well-balanced concert includes such popular pieces as Grieg's "Norwegian Dance No. 2," Bernstein's own "Somewhere" from his hit Broadway show, "West Side Story," and Saint-Saens' "Danse Macabre, Op. 40." An appealing variety of moods and themes, this set rates a place in every record collection.

Installation Set May 21 at EIU

For President Fite

Dr. Gilbert C. Fite will be formally installed as the fourth president of Eastern Illinois University at 6 p.m. Sunday, May 21, in the Lincoln Field Stadium. The ceremony will precede the 73rd annual commencement program.

Dr. Lavern M. Hammond, dean of the Graduate School and chairman of the Inaugural Committee, said the two events would be combined and the investiture ceremony kept "simple and brief in keeping with the current austere budget circumstances."

The installation will be conducted by Howard V. Phelan, chairman of the Board of Governors of State Colleges and Universities. Following the ceremony, Dr. Fite will deliver his inaugural address. Among invited guests will be presidents of other universities under the jurisdiction of the Board of Governors.

Dr. Fite was named president by the board in April, 1971, and assumed the office in September. A history teacher and noted author, Dr. Fite has been on the faculty of the University of Oklahoma since 1945.

He holds the B.A. and M.A. degrees from the University of South Dakota and the Ph.D. degree from the University of Missouri. He also attended Westington Springs College, S. D., and Seattle Pacific College, Wash.

Dr. Fite's predecessors include Livingston C. Lord (1958-1963); Dr. Robert G. Buzzard (1963-1966); and Dr. Quincy Doudina (1966-1971).

night unless you want a case of insomnia. This is music to stir the blood—"The Thunderer" by Sousa, "National Emblem" by Bagley, "Anchors Aweigh" in an unusual and exciting treatment, "Rule Britannia" the "Marsellaise," and others.

No matter what your musical persuasion, these rousing marches done with such spirit by Bernstein and the New York Philharmonic are bound to set your feet tapping.

Rose Wasyak Wins K. of C. Spelling Bee

Rose Wasyak, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Wasyak, 2313 Grand Ave., won the annual Knights of Columbus spelling bee for parochial school students Sunday at the K. of C. hall.

She is a student at St. Joseph School which will receive a large engraved trophy to be held for one year or until retired.

The three received trophies from the council and Webster's Seventh New Collegiate Dictionaries from the Press-Record. The winner and runner up will represent the council in the annual Madison County K. of C. spelling bee to be held in late April at Edgewoodville.

Steve Nann was chairman of the event. The enunciator was Miss Helen Kuenster, Granite City High School teacher. Judges were Grover Norwood and Norman Owca of GCHS and Fred Nield, principal of Washington School. Refreshments were served.

McKendree to Accept High School Juniors

McKendree College is accepting applications from high school juniors with "B" average to attend college this summer and put "Credits in Escrow" for 1973.

The program allows students who will be high school seniors next year to attend regular college classes during the summer and get a taste of what college life at McKendree is all about. The students receive what Dean Emeritus Owen calls "Credits in Escrow." Summer school registration starts June 11.

Once the student completes high school, he can enroll in McKendree and draw his credits from "escrow."

Coupled with the college's new 4-1-4 calendar, the Credits in Escrow program can help a student graduate with a full four-year program in three years. Dean Owens points out that for those concerned about college costs, the three-year education package offers real savings, and in addition gets the student into the job market, or on to graduate school, a full year earlier.

Tri-City Speedway's April 9 Date Marks Spring for Fans

One of the surest signs of Spring's arrival in the Quad-Cities annually is the opening of the racing season at the Tri-City Speedway and, using that qualification, Spring here will start Sunday afternoon, April 9, weather permitting.

A giant Mayors' Cup Race for super-sprint and late model stock cars is scheduled for the opener. Many of the top drivers in the Midwest have indicated that their cars are ready to go. Tri-City will be the first racing facility in the area to open and a large number of drivers, who have been anxiously awaiting the opening, are expected to be on hand.

The number of competitors also is expected to be enhanced by the track having a new promoter, Don Robinson, successful promoter of the Benton Speedway.

Cockrum Expected
Robinson says he has commitments from Cliff Cockrum of Benton, the 1970 Florida state sprint champion, and Cliff Johns of Evansville, another championship driver, that they will be among the cars in the field.

Many who compete regularly at Benton are expected to "take another crack" at defeating Cockrum and Johns.

Tri-City regulars Wb Spalding of Pontoon Beach, Bill Utz of Sedalia, Mo., Bubby Jones of Danville, "Gentleman" Jimmy Moughan of Springfield and crowd favorite Chuck "The One-Armed Bandit" Amatt of Greenfield, Tenn., have indicated they will be on hand to compete in the super-sprints.

Also, Larry Kirkpatrick, who was seriously injured in a mishap last season, said he would be on hand, although he probably will not drive until mid-season.

4 Mayors to Attend
A host of celebrities will be on the judging tower to view the events and present the trophies to the winners of the super-sprint and late model feature races. Among them will be Mayor Donald Partney of Granite City, Mayor Mike Sasyk of Madison, Mayor John E. Lee of Venice and Mayor Otto Kreher of Pontoon Beach. Several state politicians also have been invited to participate.

Miss Melodie Tindall, 19, of 64 University Drive, the newly crowned Tri-City Speedway queen, will preside at the event with first runner-up Miss Sharon Graham, 20, of 1710 Kennedy Drive, Madison.

Tentative plans call for afternoon races April 9, 16 and 23 and the weekly races will move to Friday nights April 28.

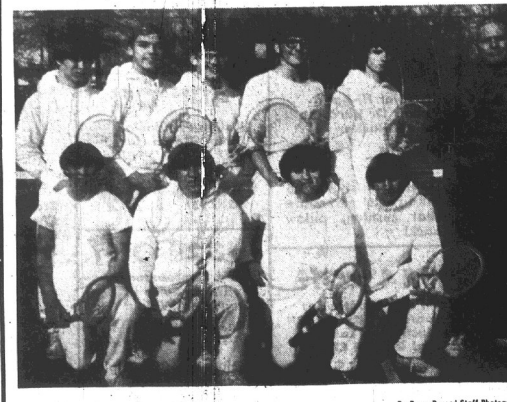

The schedule for the opener and all afternoon races calls for time trials in both divisions to start at 1:30 p.m. and the first race to begin at 2:30 p.m.

Court Rules Against Girl

U. S. District Court Judge Omer Poos has ruled that Federal and State Constitutions and the Civil Rights Act do not vest in an individual girl plaintiff, Jean Harris of the Lincoln, Ill., High School, the right to force the Illinois High School Association to permit her to compete on a boys high school tennis team.

The by-laws of the IHSA provide for competition for males and females separately. In the opinion of the court, and should not be interfered with by courts.

The by-laws represent the will of the majority of the principals of member schools and reflect that most girls and women physical education instructors recognize that the advantages to girls of separate athletic competition favor its continuance.

Tickets Available for K.C.-Shrine Festival

The second annual benefit dinner and festival will be sponsored by Tri-City Council 1066 of the Knights of Columbus and the Shrine of the Almad Temple from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. Sunday, April 23, at the St. Elizabeth Parish cafeteria and grounds.

Tickets for the event, which attracted 7,000 to 10,000 persons a year ago, are available at $2 each from Knights and Shriners and may be obtained at the door.

Proceeds will go to the Shriners Transportation Fund to transport young burn victims to the Shriners Burns Clinic in Cincinnati and to a fund to develop a half-way house for retarded adults here.

Entertainment will include units from the Almad Temple, drill teams; drum and bugle corps and local dance groups, according to arrangements being made.

In charge of the event is Michael Schuler of the Knights of Columbus.

Car Straddles Median

An auto driven by Norman F. Gobel, Dorsey, leaving a service station, struck and straddled the median on Nameoki Road at Johnson Road at 7 p.m. Monday, police reported.

THREE STRIKES AND OUT! Warrior hurler Vic Reznack, who had a 7-2 (won-loss) record last year, gets in shape to top that record as he huris one off the mound in practice. On the left is Head Baseball Coach Gale Garbe, who pitched for Eastern Illinois University and is starting his fourth season as head coach. Standing next to Garbe is Warrior Frank Baran.

IS OUR HOUSE THE BEST VALUE IN TOWN TODAY???

We Think So—and Heres' Why... In our opinion the Basement House, in the Granite City area, will increase in value, over the value of a non-basement or slab house with a garage, to the extent that its increased value should, within ten years, be worth the price of a new car to you.

The basement house, has the advantage of easy and inexpensive expansion for additional bedroom or family room, while you are making money living in it.

In other words... the basement house has better, quicker, and higher re-sale value.

In Memoriam 33
In loving memory of NEWTON TAPP, March 31, 1970. He heard the call of his country. And answered it brave and true. "I'll be a man to do or die, I'm going to help them through." The Great Commander has written His name On the roll of Him who gave His only Begotten Son And died that we may live. He paid the debt to his country In the light for right he had won: And the King of Kings has spoken: "Thou faithful one, well done." Sadly missed by AUNT MARY UNCLE FRANK AND KIDS 33-30
In loving memory of NEWTON TAPP, March 31, 1970: It was a sad and terrible day. When we heard our Newton had passed away. He died in Vietnam - in the war - undisciplined. Did he die without knowing how he was cared for? Newton is gone but we'll forget him never. Thoughts of him will linger in our hearts forever. Dear God in heaven to you we pray, That Newton will have the peace he wanted someday. MOM 33-30

Dust of Primary Battle Still Settling: Some Say Walker Riding Crest of an Unstoppable Wave of Voter Protest

By KEN WATSON
Copy News Service

Springfield — Look for a long lull on the Illinois political scene.

It's not just that the politicians are stunned by that surprising result in the Democratic race for governor and need time to recover. There are deeper reasons.

Both Democrats and Republicans need time to let all the March 21 dust settle, to reassess the new political situation, to take care not to stir any further frictions, and to begin planning long-range strategy for the November showdown.

Both parties have a lot of work to do.

Not for more than 30 years have the Democrats come out of a primary in worse shape. It is going to take some of the most adept political diplomacy in Illinois history to bring the primary-divided factions together.

Upset governor winner Dan Walker based much of his campaign on a savage repudiation of Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley, his powerful machine and almost all that the mayor has stood for.

Daley, old pro that he is, has made some early overtures for peace. But the Walker camp has been far from enthusiastic.

In any event, it is going to take time before the Walker people and the Daley people feel comfortable together.

Defeated Lt. Gov. Paul Simon has been statesmanlike in defeat and has offered to help Walker in the fall. But it won't be that easy.

Thousands of Simon supporters will remember the type of campaign Walker waged against their man, sometimes vicious, and they may be far from prone to forgive and forget.

With the exception of Walker himself, all the other Democratic state candidates are or were gamblers, picked by the same slatemakers so fiercely and persistently denounced by Walker in the primary battle.

They will find it uncomfortable, at least for awhile, to be campaigning with Walker.

In a remarkable shift from previous years, Democrats in 1972 have the post-primary job of restoring party harmony, while the Republicans are home free in this regard.

But the Republicans do have their problems, complicated to some degree by the nomination of Walker instead of Simon. The GOP strategy to re-elect Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie has been based on a Simon candidacy. Now a whole new plan will have to be developed.

Granite City PRESS-RECORD
Page 48 Thurs., Mar. 30, 1972

Most St. Louis Republicans seem to believe that Ogilvie stands a better chance of beating Walker than he did of beating Simon.

But this is a debatable question.

Regional Report—Missouri Airport Sites Have Undesirable Costs, Noise, Airspace

(Illinois Metro East Industrial Development Corporation)

State primary election results continue to be "Topic A." Daniel J. Walker upset Lt. Gov. Paul Simon of Troy for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination while Neil Hartigan, Simon's running mate, won the second spot on the November state ballot by a wide margin.

In Congressional contests, Robert Mays, East St. Louis street commissioner, won the Republican nomination in the 23rd Congressional District and will face Rep. Melvin Price, D-East St. Louis, in November.

In contests for nominations for elections to the Illinois House, incumbent Democratic State Representative H. O. Calvo of Granite City and Leonard Kennedy of Alton won the Democratic nomination in the 56th representative district; in District 55, Harold D. Stedelin and Don E. Brummert, both incumbents, won Democratic nominations for state representative over Harvey D. Byers, a Republican nomination for state senator that district over Robert Hayes.

In St. Clair County, incumbent State's attorney Robert H. Rice withstood a strong challenge from Bruce Cook for the Democratic nomination for state's attorney.

The Missouri-St. Louis Metropolitan Airport Authority, beginning its existence with a two-hour secret meeting, decided to take another look at the life expectancy of Lambert Field and at potential sites for a new airport in Missouri.

The environmental impact studies of the Smartt Field and Dardenne sites done by Edgerly, Tomlinson & Associates, Inc., were made public last week. The reports described serious environmental problems associated with both sites.

In addition to undesirable environmental problems in terms of wildlife and noise, serious engineering problems and higher construction costs, both sites pose airspace problems, according to the impact statement.

The Miles Laboratories corn milling plant in Granite City, scheduled to close March 31, will continue in operation at least four more months under a lease signed by Corn Sweeteners, Inc., of Cedar Rapids, Ia.

The temporary lease calls for Corn Sweeteners to operate the plant at about half the present staff for a trial period while conducting engineering studies of the profitability of rebuilding the plant into a modern, efficient wet corn milling plant. The operation is expected to start soon after April 1.

The blowing in of Granite City Steel Company's second blast furnace has resulted in 255 employees being called back to work. The recall began Jan. 30 and extended into late March, when the company started up a sintering plant.

Reinforcing and improvement of the steel blast furnace provided employment for about 650 building tradesmen and was one of the area's largest construction projects during the three months required to do the job.

The East Side Levee and Sanitary District board of trustees eliminated many top jobs and its entire police force. The positions abolished were those of police chief, assistant police chief, policeman, chief time keeper, superintendent of maintenance and culvert inspectors.

Orville Thimsen of East St. Louis was hired to succeed Adair L. Kraemer as chief engineer for the district.

An ordinance calling for issuance of $450,000 in general obligation bonds and $565,000 in revenue bonds was passed by the Rosewood Heights Sanitary District board of trustees.

Money from the bonds would go with expected state and federal grants to finance construction of sanitary sewers throughout the district and a trunk line carrying sewage to Bethalto for eventual treatment by Alton under a contract with Bethalto.

In related news, the Belleville City Council approved a $7.8 million sewerage revenue refunding bond issue to provide

Walker—like Paul Simon in the primary — will say the wrong thing and also "blow it."

Whether this occurs or not, the forthcoming campaign looks like the most interesting one in Illinois since 1960, when the late John F. Kennedy won out for President over then Vice President Richard M. Nixon by a scant 8,838 votes.

Three Men Indicted In Race Track Murder

Three men, including a Granite Cityan, have been indicted on charges of murder by the Madison County Grand Jury in connection with the fatal beating of Ronald Kinneer, a groomsmen at Fairmount Race Track, on Sept. 17, 1971.

They are Dickie Lee Shelby, 23, of 11 Snow Bird Lane; and Glen Mordis, 19, and Richard K. Provinces, 19, both of Collinsville.

The indictment was returned Thursday but was suppressed until Monday. Shelby was held at the county jail and the other two were released on bond. Kinneer was found beaten to death on Old Black Lane, and officials said robbery was the motive.

In another indictment which had been suppressed, Norman D. Smith, Rural Route One, was charged with burglary on Feb. 10 at the K-Mart Store on Collinsville Road. He was released on bond.

EASTER SEASON has brought with it thoughts of spring and the outdoors. Rosemary Schmidt, a student at the Southwestern campus of Southern Illinois University, happily examines one of the first magnolia plants to bloom on the local campus. The saucer magnolia grows near an entrance to the General Office Building.
